I hereby request permission to publish the following excerpts from the manuscript collections indicated (attach additional pages if necessary):

Collection: The Botanical Museum of Harvard University. 1946

Description: Races of Maize in South America. By Hugh C. Cutler. Botanical Museum Leaflets
Vol 12, No. 8. October 24, 1946. Harvard University

Excerpt and Request: To place the entire article into digital .PDF format on CD and make available on web site of either the USDA or the U.S. National Academy Press along with nine publications of the National Research Council on "Races of Maize in (nine country names)". The CDs will be made freely available worldwide by the USDA to maize research scientists and to libraries that request copies to further public and private research on maize.

These quotations will appear in (give author(s), title, publisher, anticipated date of publication): "The Races of Maize Collection", a fully searchable CD series incorporating the publications of the National Research Council (permission already obtained), the English edition of Races of Maize in Mexico: Their Origin, Characteristics and Distribution. By W. E. Wellhausen, L.M. Roberts and E. Hernandez X in collaboration with Paul C. Mangelsdorf (approval granted by Harvard University on 1/7/03), and other publications from around the world. We now expect that the publication of these CDs will occur in December 2003 or January 2004.

These quotations will appear in (give author(s), title, publisher, anticipated date of publication):
