

United States Department of Agriculture

Agricultural Research Service

Appalachian Fruit Research Station (AFRS)

located in Kearneysville, West Virginia is proud to participate in the 2014 Mountain State Apple Harvest Festival!

Come learn about how today's science is helping ensure tomorrow's food supply at our Open Houses!

Thursday, October 16, & Friday, October 17

2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

(Take 1-81 Exit 12 - take Route 9 East approximately 10 miles - turn right on Wiltshire Road [Burr Industrial Park]; follow tour signs).

Directions also available at http://www.ars.usda.gov/main/site_main.htm?modecode=19-31-00-00

The open house program will include activities and displays demonstrating the lab's research including:

- Orchard in a Jar: True or False — you can put a whole orchard in a baby food jar. Would you believe it's true? Come see tiny apples trees growing in jars!
- How HOT are You?: See a demonstration of thermographic imaging!
- Avoiding stinky situations with stink bugs: Monitoring and understanding the brown Marmorated stink bug.

USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.